SULLIVAN & CROMWELL

48 Wall Street, New York 5,

November 21, 1946.

Lt. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg,
Central Intelligence Group,
New War Department Building,
Washington, D.C.

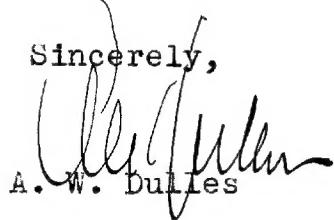

Dear General Vandenberg:

Many thanks for your note of the 13th. I certainly agree with your postscript. You will find it impossible to run your show to the satisfaction of all the minions of the press, no matter what you do. And, after all, at the end of his article he comes down to the need for putting the organization on a firmer basis under act of Congress. Constantine Brown is an old friend of mine, but I haven't seen him for several years. He is a bit sensational but not really malicious.

STAT

[redacted] is coming along satisfactorily and I hope to see him in a few days. I shall tell him of our meeting.

Sincerely,

A. W. Dulles
